

MANY MADE MONEY THAT WASN'T GOOD

GOOD WORK OF THE TREASURY SECRET SERVICE.

Chief Hazen's Annual Report Shows that 637 People Were Arrested For Counterfeiting and of that Number Three Hundred Were Convicted or Pleading Guilty.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—William P. Hazen, chief of the secret service of the treasury department, in his annual report, shows that during the year the total number of arrests made was 637, nearly all for counterfeiting United States money. Of these arrested about three hundred were convicted or pleaded guilty and 129 are now awaiting the action of grand juries. The fines collected amounted to $5,967. The amount of altered or counterfeit notes captured was $21,300; coins, $10,756. There were also captured 134 plates from which counterfeit had been printed, thirty-three dies, 156 molds, and a large quantity of tools, melting pots, etc. Chief Hazen says that the events of the last year furnished evidence of great activity among counterfeiters, the number of arrests reported for counterfeiting both notes and coins largely exceeding that of any previous year in the history of the service.

In commenting upon the large number of counterfeit notes discovered, Chief Hazen says:

The art of photolithography, although seemingly in its infancy, has made it comparatively easy to imitate the most skillfully engraved designs of our notes, so that the danger from this source is not only very grave, but increasing; and to meet these conditions the designs and execution of government notes should be such as would make their reproduction most difficult. One safeguard still remaining, however, is the secret process of making distinctive paper.

Coin counterfeiters are more numerous than formerly and more than the usual number of arrests and captures of material has been reported. This branch of counterfeiting, however, is more serious in its results to the community than that of making spurious notes and much less difficult of detection. No evidence of advancement in the art of manufacturing counterfeit coin has been shown. Of the numerous counterfeiters of the silver coins which have appeared during the last year none can be classed as especially dangerous.

ORDERED THE MEN TO FIRE.

Lieutenant Oyer Testifies at the Washington Court House Inquiry.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 23.—Lieutenant Oyer, who ordered the troops at Washington Court House to fire, in accordance with the orders of Colonel Coit in a given contingency, testified yesterday in the court of inquiry to the battering of the doors by the mob with stones and other things. He said:

"A shot fired by a person outside was followed by a cry 'All together' and a terrific blow opened the south door four feet, when I gave the command 'Fire.' After one volley I gave the command 'Cease firing.' The door at this moment was open but a few inches, having been closed considerably by the force or weight of the baricades."

GRAND LODGE I. O. O. F.

Newly Elected Officers Installed at the Springfield Session.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 23.—At yesterday's session of the Grand Lodge of Oddfellows of Illinois the newly elected officers were installed. They are: Grand patriarch, Henry Phillips of Virginia; Deputy grand patriarch, C. F. Mansfield of Mansfield; grand warden, George C. Rankin of Monmouth; grand secretary, J. R. Moller of Springfield; grand treasurer, Thomas B. Needles of Nashville; grand representative, J. Otis Humphrey of Springfield.

GRANTED AN APPEAL.

Recalcitrant Sugar Trust Investigation Witnesses Gain a Victory.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The court of appeals of the District of Columbia yesterday granted the motion of counsel for Messrs. Chapman and MacArthur, the indicted recalcitrant sugar trust investigation witnesses, for an appeal from the recent decision of Judge Cole, holding that they are liable to punishment for refusal to answer questions put by the senate committee. The date for hearing arguments on the appeal has not yet been fixed.

Death of Gen. William H. Gibson.

Tiffin, Ohio, Nov. 23.—Every bell in Tiffin at 6:30 o'clock last night rang out a knell notifying all that Gen. William H. Gibson, the statesman, soldier and Christian citizen, had passed away. The funeral will be Sunday afternoon, under the direction of the G. A. R.

New Commercial Treaty Ratified.

ROME, Nov. 23.—The commercial treaty between Italy and Paraguay has been ratified by both nations.

Lord Danraven Decides to Challenge.

COWES, Isle of Wight, Nov. 23.—A telegram received here says that Lord Danraven has definitely decided to issue a challenge for the America's cup.

BRINGS SUIT FOR $200,000.

Mrs. May Davis Claims an Eighth Interest in a Rich Colorado Mine.

DENVER, Nov. 23.—Mrs. May Davis, widow of James S. Brown, has brought suit against the Ibez Mining company, owner of the Little Johnny mine at Leadville, for $200,000 her share, she alleges, of the ore taken from the mine in which, she claims to hold an eighth interest. Mrs. Davis' claim is based upon the fact that she is sole heir of her late husband. She alleges that the defendants obtained possession of her husband's interest in the mine after his death by foreclosing a mortgage without obtaining permission from the Probate court to do so. This fact, it is claimed, nullifies the sale. The output of the Little Johnny is fabulous and if Mrs. Davis succeeds in establishing her claim she will become one of the richest women in the United States.

NEW YORK WILL BID.

More Than Enough Is Subscribed for Whole Bond Issue.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Subscriptions for an amount greater than the entire issue of $50,000,000 of government 5s will be made by a number of banks and other financial institutions of this city, including some foreign capital. This was decided yesterday after a number of conferences, and it was settled also that the members of this agreement should make their bids separately but at exactly the same price. This action insures the success of the loan which is now certain to be oversubscribed. The figures which bankers in the agreement will bid for the bonds is not made public, but it is understood it will allow a good profit to the government.

BRINDLE AND HART HELD.

Admission to a Preacher That They Killed the Good Children.

SPAULDING, Ohio, Nov. 23.—Clarence Brindle and Charles Hart, arrested on suspicion of the murder of the children of Samuel Good, were given a hearing yesterday before Justice H. D. Spring. Samuel Good, a colored man named J. B. Jackson, John Goings and Dr. Slager, the coroner, were examined. David Merritt, a colored preacher, testified that while occupying the same bed one night with Brindle the prisoner had told him that while in Van Wert jail he had been put under the influence of a drug and had first barked like a dog, and then confessed the crime. The justice admonished the throng to avoid mob violence and held Hart and Brindle without bail, and put David Merritt under $1,000 bond to appear as a witness.

HE DEFENDS THE CHURCH.

George Parsons Lathrop Says A. P. A. Attacks Are Unjust.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—George Parsons Lathrop delivered an address last night on the subject of religious toleration. Mr. Lathrop's address went to show that the Catholic church in the United States to-day stood in a false light. There was as great a misapprehension concerning it as there was in England in the days of the "no popery" riots in London. He spoke of unjust attacks made upon the Catholic church by the A. P. A. and kindred anti-Roman Catholic organizations. He declared the Catholic church was not opposed to the progress of civilization, was not guilty of intolerance and was not in favor of a union of church and state.

Alleged Express Robbers Freed.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 23.—Atis Savage and Ralph Gibbons, recently arrested at The Dallas upon the confession of a man implicating them in a robbery of $14,000 from the Pacific Express company's office at that place, have been exonerated because of lack of testimony corroborating the confession. They will be brought to this city to answer to the charge of robbing the United States mails.

In Favor of S. B. Elkins.

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 23.—A canvass of republicans elected to the legislature removes all doubt of the election of S. B. Elkins to the United States senate. Every member from the Second and Fourth congressional districts has declared for him, with over half of those in the Third and First districts.

Four Suspects Prove Bandits.

FORT SMITH, Ark., Nov. 23.—Deputy Marshal Smith has telegraphed the marshal's office from Wichita Falls, Texas, that one of the four captured suspects in the "Skeeter" case, of the Cook gang, but Bill Cook is not of the party. They are all dangerous robbers.

G. K. Whitworth Is Dead.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 23.—George K. Whitworth, who shot and killed Chancellor Allison and then shot himself, died at 2:15 o'clock a.m. yesterday. He had been unconscious since 4 p.m. yesterday, but rallied a few minutes before his death.

Santa Fe Mail Car Burned.

HAWAII IS IN FEAR OF A BIG UPRISING

THE GOVERNMENT IS WATCHING THE ROYALISTS.

They Will Not Be taken by Surprise if an Attempt Should Be Made to Replace the Queen on Her Throne—The Chinese Beat the Japs.

HONOLULU, Nov. 12, per steamer Mariposa, via San Francisco, Nov. 23.—That the government is still slightly in fear of a royalist uprising has been evident during the last week, and all the guards in the suburbs have been doubled and a close watch kept on all suspected persons. The cause of this sudden activity is alleged to be the discovery of a plot to restore the ex-queen to power. One of the richest and most prominent royalists in the city said a few evenings ago: "People who think our cause is dead will be treated to a surprise in the near future which will make them open their eyes. We have made many attempts to arouse royalists to a sense of their wrongs, but so far we have failed. This time, however, I think we have succeeded and will accomplish our end. Whether we will succeed or not is difficult to say, but if we did not think we would we would not attempt revolution."

It is known a considerable number of guns and much ammunition have been secretly brought here during the last few months and royalists evidently intend to make use of them. No uneasiness is felt by the government party, however, which seems perfectly well satisfied it can hold its own.

CHINESE BEAT JAPS.

Attacks on Port Arthur Repulsed—Preparation for Bombardment of the Harbor.

TIENTSIN, Nov. 23.—Reliable information received here from Port Arthur shows the first attack of the Japanese drove in the Chinese outposts. Three other attacks were subsequently made, but in each instance the Japanese were repulsed. Heavy and incessant firing has been going on since noon Tuesday. The Japanese are landing additional troops. They warned a British vessel to clear, as their fleet intended to bombard the forts Wednesday.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—The special correspondent of Reuters' Telegram company, the only European at Port Arthur, writing from there under date of Oct. 19, describes the place as being a city of the dead. The streets are empty and only soldiers are to be seen in the houses. The correspondent estimates 20,000 superior northern troops are defending Port Arthur, and says they have plenty of ammunition. He adds the fortress is impregnable if defended and the garrison has provisions enough for six weeks.

Rebellion in Samoa Seems Certain.

APIA, Samoa, Nov. 7, per steamer Mariposa, via San Francisco, Nov. 23.—While there have been no recent native outbreaks, the state of political unrest continues, without any prospect of termination. The belief is becoming more general that certain influential Germans are secretly aiding the rebel party with a view of placing it in power, thus rendering German annexation or a German protectorate easy of accomplishment. The German warship Buzzard and the English cruiser Curacao are still here.

Reggio Again Shaken by Earthquake.

ROME, Nov. 23.—Sig. Galli, the royal commissioner appointed to visit the districts affected by the earthquakes, has visited Reggio, capital of the province of Reggio di Calabria, and reports he found in the city only twenty houses that entirely escaped damage. Another sharp earthquake was felt in Reggio yesterday. Crowds of homeless women and children are wandering about the ruined dwellings, wringing their hands and weeping.

Czar Wins Great Favor.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—A St. Petersburg dispatch to the Standard says: At a meeting of the state council Wednesday the czar created a highly favorable impression by a display of unexpected oratorical fluency and his masterly grasp of the political questions submitted for his judgment. His majesty is winning golden opinions on all sides by showing himself equal to his onerous position.

Feud of German Socialists Grows.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—A dispatch to the Times from Berlin says the Bundesrath has referred the anti-revolutionary bills to a committee. The feud between the north and the south German socialists increases in rancor. Even Liebknecht resents Bebel's statement that the social democrats have lost in quality.

Stop Reports of Armenian Massacre.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 23.—Most of the English, French, Russian and Greek newspapers published between Nov. 14 and 19, and also all the Berlin newspapers of Nov. 18 have been stopped at the Turkish frontier and confiscated by the government, as they contained references of the Armenian massacre.

Moraez Grant General Amnesty.

RIO JANEIRO, Nov. 23.—President Moraez has issued a decree granting amnesty to all political offenders.

MUCH GOLD FOUND DOWN IN MEXICO

ANOTHER DISCOVERY OF THE YELLOW METAL

Frank Payson and George Brill, Two Americans, Are Believed to Have Finally Run Into the Richest Mine in the World and the Excitement Runs High.

SIERRA MAJADA, Mexico, Nov. 23.—The richest gold mine in the world has been discovered here. It is located sixty miles north of here, and from samples of the ore produced the discovery is certainly the most fortunate made since when in 1849, California gave up its treasures of yellow metal in time to prevent a gold famine of great dimensions. The lucky prospectors are Americans, Frank Payson and George Brill, who have been looking for the fabulous mines discovered by ignorant natives sixty years ago, but which could not be located afterward. It is now believed that the American prospectors have struck the lost gold mines. The discovery has created widespread excitement, and the exciting events of '49 promise to be repeated on a much larger scale.

REMAIN INDEPENDENT.

National Grange Declines to Unite with Federation of Labor.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 23.—At yesterday's meeting of the National Grange the subject of dormant granges was under consideration for a time. It was stated that special deputies had been sent into the states of Arkansas, Georgia and South Carolina to engage in the work of reorganization in those states. A communication from the Federation of labor, inviting the grange to unite in a federation of farm and industrial organizations was acted on adversely. The grange considering it advisable to maintain a distinct organization of its own and to form no entangling alliances. State masters of New England granges held a meeting and formed an organization to provide for the entertainment of the national grange at its next annual meeting. Dr. Bowen of Connecticut was elected chairman; E. D. Howe of Massachusetts secretary, and A. M. Betcher of Rhode Island treasurer. The meeting place has not yet been determined on, but it will be either in Rhode Island, Connecticut or Massachusetts.

SENSATION IN MARVIN CASE.

Defense Alleges Conspiracy to Railroad the Ex-Cashier to Prison.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 23.—Some sensational testimony is being developed in the trial of Frederick Marvin, ex-cashier of the late Third National bank, on the charge of various forms of embezzlement from that institution. W. A. Jackson, a former director, testified that Marvin had tried to induce him to leave town and not appear at the trial. Elliott E. Stevenson, attorney for the defense, said that he intended to prove that certain of the bank's directors had entered into conspiracy to send Marvin to prison in order to keep him from testifying against them. The defense promises sensational testimony when its turn for producing witnesses arrives.

CHINA IS WILLING TO PAY.

Is Said Japan Has Been Offered $75,000,000 and Liquidation.

HIROSHIMA, Nov. 2.—It is reported that China has intimated that she will offer to pay a war indemnity of 100,000,000 teels (about $75,000,000), and in addition pay all the war expenses incurred in Japan.

YOKOHAMA, Nov. 23.—The Chinese Pie Yang squadron is reported to have shelled the Japanese troops marching upon Port Arthur. A desperate battle between the Chinese and Japanese fleets is said to have followed. The result of the engagement is not known.

Thirty Bodies in a Cave.

CITY OF MEXICO, Nov. 23.—A hideous discovery has just been made near Churintzio, state of Michoacan. The find consisted of thirty human bodies in an advanced state of decomposition, piled up in a cave. A short time ago Cleofes Gomez was robbed and murdered for his money. Pascal, a brother, while searching for him, made the discovery, which explains many mysterious disappearances.

Floor Mills Burn.

ROCKFORD, Ill., Nov. 23.—The two big flour mills of the Salmon Milling Company burned to the ground early yesterday, entailing a loss of $50,000, with a partial insurance. The plant was the largest in the state. By the bursting of the water main other industries adjacent were endangered, but they were finally saved.

Bank Fails to Survive the Panic.

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 23.—The citizens' National bank will not reopen for business. This decision was reached at a directors' meeting. The bank will go into liquidation. Its assets are $425,000, liabilities $240,000.

Two Ships are Overdue.

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 2.—The Cunarder Catalonia, which was due in port last Monday, has not yet arrived. The Warren line steamer Kansas, which sailed from Liverpool two days before the Catalonia left, has not yet been heard from.

ONLY AMERICA'S FLAG.

None but National Colors to Be Carried in Knights of Labor Parades.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 23.—The Knights of Labor had a busy session yesterday. Resolutions were adopted that each local assembly shall make a maximum scale of wages above the regular scale adopted by the national trades assembly; that all grievances and complaints must come up in the local courts of the assemblies within sixty days; that the legislatures of the various states be memorialized to enact laws providing for the creation of state labor bureaus; that all tradesmen shall affiliate with organizations of their own trade; that in labor parades no flags, except the national colors, shall be carried; that a delegate to the assembly shall take his seat after his alternate has been seated, and that a plank be inserted in the Knights of Labor preamble against gambling in farm products or options. A resolution making ex-representatives to the general assembly ineligible as officers was defeated. It was reported that carpenters of the Amalgamated Association and American Federation of Labor were organized against the Knights of Labor and the latter desired some assistance from the general assembly. The appeal was laid before the delegates and the vote was in favor of rendering what assistance lay in their power to give.

Coroner's Verdict on Riordan.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 23.—The inquest is the case of Cornelius Riordan, "Bob" Fitzsimmons' sparring partner, who died of hemorrhage of the brain after an exhibition here Friday night, was held last night. The testimony was voluminous and a verdict was not reached until 1 o'clock this morning. It was as follows: "We find that the death of Cornelius Riordan was caused by hemorrhage of the brain, which was occasioned by an accidental blow struck by Robert Fitzsimmons while they were engaged in a legal sparring exhibition on the stage of the H. R. Jacobs opera house, and we exonerate said Robert Fitzsimmons from any criminal intent."

For Reciprocal Trade Relations.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 23.—W. W. Bailey, a Montreal civil engineer who has been at work for the Minnesota Canal company, says the report of the acquiescence on the part of the Canadian government in the scheme for the use of Canadian canals by American vessels is on condition not only that the United States maintain the canals in good repair, but the treaty would contain clauses relative to the establishment of reciprocal trade relations between the two countries.

Trial of Alleged Negro Lynchers.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 23.—In the trial of the alleged lynchers yesterday "Butch" McCarver, the infidel witness, testified he was a crap shooter and that he never hesitated to shoot craps with a negro if he thought there was any money in it. Just as court adjourned a question of vital importance was at issue, the question of whether or not evidence regarding the barn burnings, which are alleged to have caused the lynching, was admissible.

To Steal Patterns of French Guns.

PARIS, Nov. 23.—The Figaro says: "An attempt has been made to steal the patterns of the new Deput gun which were shipped in padlocked cases to Calais and Bourges by the minister of war. The attempt to obtain possession of these patterns is said to have been made Nov. 10 and it is added no one except the presidents of the artillery testing committees knew of the shipment."

Panic in an Opera House.

WARSAW, Ind., Nov. 23.—There came near being a disastrous panic at Harter's opera house last evening. A fire started among the scenery, and some one in the audience rose and yelled "fire." Women and children screamed and rushed for the door. A panic was only averted by the presence of mind of two policemen who were in the audience.

Kolb's Followers Oppose Force.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 23.—The political adherents of R. F. Kolb, defeated candidate for governor, are revolting against his proposal to be in augmented governor Dec. 1. Probate Judge Zell Gaston and Circuit Judge J. C. King of Butler declare they will abet him in nothing unlawful.

Will Send Pipe to Hawaii.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 23.—The Anniston Pipe and Foundry company has received notice it has been successful in bidding for $100,000 worth of iron sewer pipe for the city of Honolulu. If the pipe is satisfactory the order is to be doubled.

CAME HERE TO LOOK FOR COAT THIEVES

SUN PRAIRIE DEPUTY SHERIFF VISITS JANESVILLE.

He Came to See if He Could Find the Burglars Who Went Through Lohms & Duseback's Saloon But Was Not Successful—One Garment Found.

SUN PRAIRIE, Nov. 23.—Deputy Sheriff Kleiner went to Janesville to secure if possible, the arrest of the fellow who burglarized Lohms & Duseback's saloon about two weeks ago and who secured two overcoats, about two dollars in money, besides a quantity of cigars and liquor. Sheriff Kleiner did not succeed in capturing the fugitive but he secured one of the overcoats.

TO REDUCE IT MORE.

Ten Million Dollars to Be Cut Off Pension Appropriations.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—An informal gathering of the members of the appropriations committee was held at the capitol yesterday afternoon. Nothing was done at the meeting except to talk over the recent election, but Representative O'Neill of Massachusetts declared the committee was arranging plans to cut down the pension appropriations at least another $10,000,000. It is asserted that the number of pensioners is at last being reduced by natural causes, and the new names added to the roll have been and will be comparatively few in number. Members of the committee believe they can make large reductions in the pension appropriations even without dropping names from the roll.

EXPECT HOLDUP IN TEXAS.

Capt. McDonald Hears the Cook Gang Is Waiting for a Rich Express.

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 23.—Col. Hunter of the Texas Pacific at Fort Worth has telegraphed Capt. McDonald of the Texas Rangers he anticipates a holdup to-night near Strauen, Texas. The train will have a large amount of money on board. Bill Cook is booked to meet his gang at this point to-night.

MUSKOGEE, I. T., Nov. 23.—Members of the Cook gang have appeared on the streets. They made their escape when citizens got after them with Winchester. Developments are looked for, as the gang stays so near.

No Hope for Miss Stevenson.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Vice-President Stevenson is much depressed over the serious illness of his daughter, Miss Mary, and it is doubtful whether he will return to Washington in time for the opening of the session of congress next month. Advice from Asheville, where the Stevenson family has assembled, are that hope has been abandoned for the recovery of the patient, who has been ailing ever since she came to the national capital. Meanwhile the Stevenson apartments at the Normandie are kept in readiness for occupancy at a few hours' notice.

Heavy Gas Pressure Causes Fire.

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., Nov. 23.—By mistake yesterday the natural gas was given high pressure in the low pressure mains and at midnight it was discovered over 500 stoves and heaters in all parts of the city were melting under the intense heat and many buildings were igniting. The flow of gas was arrested and only three houses burned. If the alarm had been twenty minutes later no power could have saved the city from total annihilation.

No Action Taken.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Nov. 23.—At the last general assembly of the Presbyterian church a committee was appointed to confer with the trustees of Lane Theological seminary. The joint meeting adjourned last night without deciding whether the theological institution which Henry Preserved Smith was connected with would come under the direct jurisdiction of the general assembly. The question of control was postponed till the annual meeting of the trustees.

Burns a Child While Hysterical.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 23.—Annie Quinn, a servant, tried to burn alive a 2-year-old child yesterday. The girl is employed by Edward Pearson. In a fit of hysteria she picked up the child and held it over the fire, which was a furious one. The mother heard the youngster scream and rushed to save it. The girl beat her off and deliberately tried to roast the child. A strong man finally beat the girl into submission. The baby was seriously hurt.

In Favor of Soldiers' Orphans.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Counsel for the Soldiers' Orphans' home of St. Louis, which is suing Russell Sage and Jay Gould's estate, took an important step when they got Surrogate Fitzgerald to sign an order, requiring the executors under Jay Gould's will to show cause why they should not be compelled to file an inventory of the estate, or, failing in that, that an attachment be issued against them.

Smallpox in Indiana.

HAMMOND, Ind., Nov. 23.—Health Officer Merz of this city discovered yesterday a well-developed case of smallpox at Robertsdale, four miles north of Hammond. Patrick Kelley, a hostler, Robertsdale is now under quarantine.

WATER CO. SCORED BY THE CITIZENS

LAST NIGHTS MEETING WAS WELL ATTENDED.

A Resolution Endorsing the Action of the Council Committee in Beging the Suit Passed—M. G. J. Jeffris Spoke For the Complainants and E. M. Hyzer for the Company.

At a big meeting of tax payers in Concordia hall last night, a resolution was passed endorsing the beginning of the water suit against the water company. Mayor Thoroughgood called the meeting to order and stated the reason for its being called. L. B. Carle suggested that M. G. Jeffris be heard. Mr. Jeffris said he would give a little history of the case and stated that an ordinance giving the company a franchise was adopted and that the franchise provided that the city could buy the works at the end of seven years at the bona fide cost. It provided that a list of expenditures be kept by the original company or by its successors or assigns. Unjust entries, he held, would annul the contract, as far as the city was concerned. Turner, Clark & Rawson as the Wisconsin Construction Company, built the water works and sold them to the Janesville Water Company, which was composed of the same three men. The mayor asked the company for a statement of the cost, when the time came, and it was furnished in an affidavit that the cost was $463,209.79. The statement was accompanied by a letter saying that the works could be bought at a very much less price than the stated cost. The common council had since investigated and found that the cost was less than $140,000. The committee who had the matter in charge then reported to the council that the cost as set forth was not correct but fraudulent and unjust; that the company had violated their charter and recommended that the suit be begun. The city, he insisted, could duplicate the plant for $150,000. It was to fix a just price at which the works could be bought, or make it possible to put in a city plant that the suit was begun, he said. The company would be compelled, he said, to show what the actual cost was and if they failed so to do, it could be shown from the outside or the court could determine itself.

Cost Just $126,633 58 Jeffris Said.

The Janesville works had cost just $126,633.58 Mr. Jeffris said. He favored the city's learning the exact cost and buying the works. The cost would be less than $150,000. Turner, Clark & Rawson composing the Janesville Water Company made a contract with the Wisconsin Construction Company which was composed of the same men, whereby the former concern made a contract with the latter concern to build the works for about $300,000. This made the cost appear as had been stated. As a matter of fact, he insisted, the plant cost to build less than $150,000 including $6,000 which went to get the franchise. This $6,000 he explained later, was not used in bribes or anything of that kind, but in the form of a contract. The bond he continued drew 5 per cent. interest and amounted to $160,000, which meant $8,000 a year in interest. The city would not have to increase its bonded indebtedness to own the works. Less than $4,000 a year would run them and he thought $3,000 a year might do it. The income, according to his figures was nearly $20,000 a year. In thirty years it would be thus paid for and with no additional expense to the city. Better management might increase the earnings to $30,000 per annum. He thought the city ought to follow this course. If the city did not feel like carrying on the suit, he said, a citizens' committee was ready to fight the case and give the city $10,000 bonus for the works besides, as it was one of the best paying plants in the north west.

It had been suggested that the company might cut off the water supply if the case was pushed. The speaker declared that there was no fear of this. As for the bond holders they took the bonds subject to all the rights of the city. Galeburg had gone through a similar law suit and won it, annulling the bonds as far as the city was concerned. If the company would arbitrate he favored that course. An engineer could determine what was a fair price for the system.

H. H. Blanchard wanted to know what the company could do if the franchise was annulled. Mr. Jeffris explained that it would cut off the hydrant rental and the building of extensions. Mr. Blanchard wanted to know if that might not help to reach an understanding.

L. B. Carle asked what was paid for the stock and Mr. Jeffris answered that it was $5,000.

Norcross' Resolution Adopted.

Pliny Norcross moved that a resolution be adopted endorsing the action of the council in suing the company. The case could not come before the court before April, 1895, which would give plenty of time to consider things. He did not favor city ownership but it was evident, he thought, that the present managers were not the men to run it. When the matter came before the court the company would have to file an answer to the suit and he suggested that it would be worth reading. He thought that consumers should pay for just so much water as they used.

G. C. McLean moved the adoption of the resolution and it was carried without an opposing vote. It was as follows:

Resolved, by this meeting of Janesville citizens that the action of the mayor and common council against the Janesville Water company be approved.

Mayor Thoroughgood said he wanted to know all about the matter and asked anyone who wished to, to speak. Cries of "Maxcy" were quite plentiful but E. M. Hyzer arose and addressed the meeting.

He said that he was representing the company and that Manager Maxcy could not fairly be called upon to speak when the action had already begun. He supposed that some things had been said, he continued, that the company would not want to stand as they had been told although it made no legal difference for the court would settle it. Rather than have people believe, however, that a fraud had been committed he would say that as he was informed Turner, Clark & Rawson had failed, the stock had been purchased, and with it came the paper and books including the affidavit that was made to B. R. Clark concerning the cost.

There had been submitted to the council a statement of the cost, together with a letter stating that the plant could be bought for a much lower price than was stated in the affidavit. Mr. Maxcy had endeavored to meet the committee and the council and had made them a statement, which, Mr. Hyzer said, he had understood pleased the committee. Before Mr. Maxon came down from Oshkosh to meet the committee, he received a letter from Mr. Child, as chairman of the fire and water committee, saying that the matter would not come up as expected, but would be reached at the next meeting of the council, as some of the committee, could not be present. Thus Mr. Maxcy could not meet them, for before the meeting spoken of in the Child's letter was held the summons and complaint had been served. This was also before the committee had reported to the council.

Mr. Maxcy Was Ready.

Mr. Maxcy, he continued, was ready to meet the council or a committee, to discuss a selling price or any grievance. If it was necessary to go into court justice would be done.

Mr. Jeffris contradicted Mr. Hyzer, after he had ceased to talk, and in response to inquiries, by saying that Turner, Clark & Rawson did not fail, which statement called forth a demonstration of approval.

L. B. Carle said that the affidavit that B. R. Clark had made concerning the cost of the plant was the same as Mr. Maxcy made and that the latter had accepted the statement of the former, embodying the clause that the company had a paid-up capital of $200,000 and he wanted to know if the crowd believed it and the yans we el that they did not. At this point a motion to adjourn was made and carried. The crowd then split up into knots to talk the thing over, while many left. Some of the discussions became pretty heated, but the crowd gradually walked down stairs only to congregate in more knots on the street. There were three hundred people present and it was evident that there were very few friends of the water company among them. Mayor Thoroughgood presided throughout the meeting. Nearly two hours were occupied in the discussion.

Great Men Becoming Greater.

Janesville has within her borders some of as shrewd business men as the world ever saw. They are all climbing the ladder of fame as fast as they can reach the round above. Among the number, no one deserves more credit than E. W. Lowell. Mr. Lowell is at the head of one of the largest hardware concerns in the state, "The Lowell Hardware Co." He has built up a business that is the envy of many a much larger city. During the past year, Mr. Lowell has devoted considerable time to bankrupt stocks of hardware, having bought and sold twelve of them. His last effort was the Holloway & Johnson bankrupt stock, and the way he has sold the goods, makes the people of Janesville believe more than ever that Mr. Lowell is indispensable to Janesville's business success. The sale closes in one week.

A BIG CONVENTION MEETS AT MILTON

QUARTERLY MEETING OF SEVENTH DAY BAPTISTS.

Session For Southern Wisconsin to Open Tonight—Hog Cholera Has Not Yet Appeared in that Vicinity and Farmers are Selling their Stock County News.

MILTON, Nov. 23.—The quarterly meeting of the Seventh Day Baptist churches of southern Wisconsin begins its session here Friday night and closes Sunday night. The ministerial conference of the same body was held Friday. There will be a Demorest medal contest at the Congregational church Monday evening. Exercises begin at 7:30 and the following will be the program: Violin duet, Misses Crandall; prayer, Rev. C. E. Carpenter; recitation, Agnes Rice; recitation, Edna Potter; vocal duet, Misses Lottie Maxson and Bertha Bross; recitation, Ethel Brown; recitation, Josie Bullis; instrumental duet, Misses Minnie Gifford and Lulu Williams. Recitation, Clara Rice; recitation, Blanche Babcock; vocal duet, Mrs. Kate Bacon and Miss Minta Howard. Admission ten cents. The publicly are invited. Dunn, Boss & Co. held their annual handkerchief sale this week and the window dressing for the event was a tasty affair and very creditable to the lady clerks of the establishment. Davis & Co. shipped two carloads of live hogs from here Tuesday night. Du Lac Lodge has invited the lodges at Janesville and Edgerton to visit them Monday evening and at the close of the session will dine them at the Milton house.

Class Demonstrations Frequent.

Class colors, class yells and class jaw have been prominent for a week or two. The Methodist and Seventh Day Baptist congregations hold a union service tomorrow evening at the Seven Day Baptist church. President Whitford will occupy the pulpit. The ladies of the M. E. church serve supper in their parlors Tuesday evening. There have been no cases of hog cholera in this locality up to date, but farmers are selling their hogs before they are well fattened rather than run any risk of loss from that cause. Carpenters who are shingling and masons laying stone, complain of cold fingers. The frame for O. D. Crumbs new house is up and the workmen will soon have the sheeting and roof on. Students from out of town are already renting rooms for next term, and the outlook for the winter is promising. The present term closes next Wednesday, and the winter term begins on the 12. prox. The G. A. R. Post and W. R. C. enjoyed a social Wednesday evening. The joint bill of fare for the event included coffee, doughnuts, bologna and gum.

A Week's Personal.

E. S. Fuller of Red Wing, Minn., was in the village Wednesday. David Gray is home from the "far west" to spend the winter with relatives. Wallace Bullis returned to Chicago Wednesday morning. Miss Nora Johnson of Albion, attends the oratorical contest tonight. Hon. P. M. Green spent Tuesday in Milwaukee. T. L. Place was in Chicago this week on business. W. A. Thompson was on the sick list Tuesday. Mrs. W. H. Walrath, who has been quite ill, is convalescent. Frank Root, who has been in Milwaukee for a week, is at home again. Mrs. W. P. Clarke went to Whitewater Saturday night to inspect the W. R. C. at that place and W. P. went along to inspect the city. Hawley Smith of Chicago, has been visiting at the Smith homestead. Mrs. Mary True, who is en route for California, was the guest of her brother, C. H. Goodrich, this week. Wilbur Persons, the Whitewater marble man, did business here Wednesday. D. J. McWay and W. S. Pember, of the "prairie crowd" of bygone college days, delivered barley here this week. Professor S. L. Maxson has been having an attack of pleurisy, but is not confined to the house. Mrs. Messer of Chicago, is visiting her mother, Mrs. S. J. Stone.

WEDDING AT MILTON JUNCTION.

Barnes—Garthwaite Nuptials Thursday Evening—Thanksgiving Service.

MILTON JUNCTION, Nov. 23.—A very pretty home wedding took place at Lucius Garthwaite's residence last Thursday night, at which time Miss Clara Garthwaite was married to Elmer Barnes by Rev. G. W. Burdick. About thirty relatives and friends were present. Mrs. J. Owen and Miss Nettie Coon attended to the refreshments. The bride, who was becomingly arrayed in old rose Henrietta, is one of our best known and most popular young ladies. She received many presents from people who were not present as well as the usual ones brought with the guests. Mr. Barnes is a young man of fine abilities, brought up at Milton Junction, but now employed in a machine shop at Fort Atkinson. Rev. G. W. Burdick went to Fort Atkinson Monday to visit his old friend Henry Howe, who has had to have a leg amputated lately from the effects of a gunshot wound. There will be Thanksgiving services at the S. D. B. church consisting of a sermon and dinner. The committee on arrangements consists of Mrs. H. E. Miner, Mrs. A. S. Maxson and Miss Maggie Burdick. They have engaged a bountiful supply. Rev. C. T. Everette, district lecturer, of the I. O. G. T. was in town Tuesday. Elmer Bingham brought in two hogs to Clarke Brothers this week that tipped the scales at twelve hundred. Mrs. Hull, of Johnstown, has been visiting her son, Dr. Hull, this week. The Seventh Day Baptist social was held at Charles Clarke's Saturday night. It was largely attended and much enjoyed. The next one will be held at Charley Lawton's, one week from next Saturday night. Mr. Wheeler, Sunday school missionary, was working for the cause in this place Saturday and Sunday. Nate Hull is going to Chicago to have his eyes treated. Rev. G. W. Burdick has been invited and will preach at Harmony on Sundays, beginning next Sunday. Mrs. McClafferty and children spent a few days at Rock River the past week. There will be no services here at the Seventh Day Baptist church next Sabbath, as the quarterly session opens at Milton. Mark Head and family called at E. D. Coon's Monday night on their way to Jefferson for a visit. They will return Saturday to attend the meeting at Milton. Miss Olive Hinckley has kindly consented to postpone her trip south until after the entertainment to be given by the I. O. G. T. at which her help is needed. Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Coon of Janesville, were calling on friends here last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Barnes left for Fort Atkinson Monday. The King's Daughters have been working for and distributing clothing to the needy for the past week. Elbert Fuller of Red Wing, Minnesota, visited at Henry Williams' Wednesday night. The Good Templars held a five o'clock tea at Mrs. Hinckley's Thursday night. The street lamps were lighted Wednesday night for the first time in many months. The Epworth League are preparing an entertainment to take place Wednesday, November 28. Mrs. Camp of Milwaukee, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Price.

THE LETTER CAME IN TIME.

Ziegler's Store Will Look Like a Temple of Trade.

Never in our life time have we had a more lucky event occur. We were wondering what we would do for the good people of Southern Wisconsin when the letter, which we published yesterday, and which is reproduced in our large ad today, came from Mr. Ziegler—We danced for joy—it was surely a stroke of providence. We took the first train for Chicago. We looked at the goods, selected what we wanted for you, and we had your interests at heart while doing it. We ordered a shipment made at once. Part of the goods will arrive tomorrow. They are the best made lot of clothes we ever looked at. Not an old style, ship-worn garment in the lot, no bankrupt stock. Every article has been made within the last thirty-five days. The tailors' strike kept the manufacturer from putting them on the market two months ago and you benefit by this strike. Just think of forty-eight cents buying a dollars worth. Ten thousand dollars worth at forty-eight cents on the dollar. An overcoat that will cost you $10 in any other store for $4.80 here after Monday morning. Until those goods arrive we have something great for you, explained on the eighth page.

T. J. ZIEGLER.

JOHN DAWSON NEEDS NO GUARDIAN

The Green County Court Passed On An Interesting Case

Ogden H. Fethers has been helping to fight an interesting lawsuit at Monroe, the case being the application of Samuel Dawson to have a guardian appointed for his father, John Dawson, on account of his inability to transact business owing to a loss of memory. A large number of witnesses were examined and both sides of the case was tried in the county court. The evidence was strong on both sides and the decision of the judge turned on the statute, that where there is a reasonable doubt in such cases, the unwilling defendant shall not be deprived of his liberty and the right to manage his own affairs. The judge considered that the evidence did not show that there was any extraordinary conduct on the part of John Dawson, warranting the necessity or advisability of appointing a guardian, and so denied the petition.

DARES TO FACE DOE WITH HIS OPINION

GENERAL SCHOFIELD SHOULD BE DISMISSED.

In Spite of the Fact that Joseph Once Commanded the Janesville Guards the General-in-Chief of the United States Army has the Gall to Differ With Him.

It is time that General Schofield, commander in chief of the army of the United States and next to the president in authority, was dismissed from the service for conduct unbecoming an officer in presuming to offer advice to his superiors.

He dares to take issue with one of the most famous and able veterans of the late roster contract and a soldier famed in several countries, General Joseph Bodwell Doe of Janesville, Wisconsin.

Ye Gods! Think of this man who won his spurs upon a mere field of battle daring to offer an opinion contrary to that of the former commander of the Janesville guards!

Think of General Schofield presuming on the simple fact that he had to face bullets in the "late unpleasantness," to know more about war than the able General Doe who marched the Janesville guards into a rail fence at Mobile and helped put down the war at Eau Claire!

Think of this imitation soldier, who only commanded men who were shooting at other men, daring to talk to a man who has actually had charge of the rifle pits at Camp Douglas!

Think of General Schofield whose only knowledge of war and cannonading was gained on a common field of battle comparing himself to a man who has actually shot a large twelve pound ten gauge shot gun at Lake Koshkonong!

Who ever heard of such preposterous insolence as a mere General of The Army who is only paid $13,500 a year, and whose only qualifications are that he graduated from West Point and worked up in the service to be commander in chief, dictating to the assistant secretary of war who wore the uniform of the adjutant general of the Wisconsin National Guard for eighteen long months, and that, too, after he had commanded the Janesville Guards for from three to one years; a man whose great intellect is worth $7,500 per annum to the government.

Old soldiers of Janesville, are you going to stand idly by and see a great man like the "general" deprived of his rights by a mere understudy?

The colossal effrontery of General Schofield is told of in this dispatch from Denver:

Ordered A Court Martial.

"An order was received today at the headquarters of the Department of Colorado, from Washington, directing that Captain Theodore W. Morrison, Sixteenth Infantry, stationed at Fort Douglas, be tried by court martial, for alleged insubordination during the railroad strike last summer. The officers at headquarters there refuse to give any particulars in the case, but say that the court martial was ordered by Assistant Secretary of War Doe against the advice of General Schofield who favored the appointment of a retiring board to inquire into the conduct of Captain Morrison, whose sanity, it is said, has been questioned for many years."

General Schofield, you should be reduced to the ranks. Your knowledge of war is like a pill beside a prize pumpkin when compared with the military learning that is stored up in the head of General Doe. In Doe's hands lies the destiny of the nation. Clap Schofield into a deep, dark, dank dungeon before he gets a chance to interfere with "the General" or all is lost.

Waterproof collars and cuffs that you can clean yourself by simply wiping off with a wet sponge. The genuine look exactly like linen and every piece is marked this way:

Laurels of the Past

are not enough. We mean every day to add to them by better doing. Too much bright wit is being turned to efforts to reduce grades of work and quality of goods---and keep up appearances. We permit nothing of that kind. The things you know, and the things you don't know, must be right---even the prices---or we've no place for them. We want you to go to every other furniture store in Janesville before coming here, get their lowest cash prices, note them down, then come here last and we will quote you prices on credit, which will be less than their cash prices.

CHANCE TO MAKE $10,000.

The citizens' meeting last night indicated that a strong sentiment prevails in favor of the suit recently commenced against the Water Company. The statement made by Mr. Jeffris in behalf of the city were very strong. He said that the cost of the works was about $127,000 and that the expense of running them would not exceed $4,000 a year and might be reduced to $3,000. The present income he said was about $18,000 a year. In his judgment the city should own the plant. Mr. Jeffris further stated that a committee of citizens present were ready to bear the expense of the suit, and then pay $10,000 bonus to the city for the works. It looks as though the city had $10,000 to gain and nothing to lose by accepting this proposition. It is reasonable to suppose that the Water Company will make a vigorous fight and that extended litigation may follow. There is reason to believe, therefore, that the council may be making a good move in closing a contract with the committee that wishes to purchase and in thus avoiding all risk of loss.

One hundred millions borrowed in the course of about nine months. Isn't that a financial record which ought to make every democrat hide himself? And yet, the country is told that Mr. Cleveland is ambitious of giving the country more lessons on finance.

The republican gain in five states was as follows: New York, 77,740; Pennsylvania, 57,157; Indiana, 31,017; Minnesota, 22,678 and Wisconsin 15,977. It certainly wasn't the stay-at-home democrats who licked their party in those states.

It seems incredible that the administration should have pigeon-holed Admiral Walker's report on Hawaii and Hawaiian affairs after sending him over there to make it. But the report didn't agree with Blount's.

Mr. Cleveland may not be loved to the extent he was a few years ago, for the enemies he has made, but he is probably loved, by a few capitalists, for the bonds he has issued.

Southern republicans of a certain class, they are well known, should be relegated to the rear at once if the party expects to retain what it has won in that section.

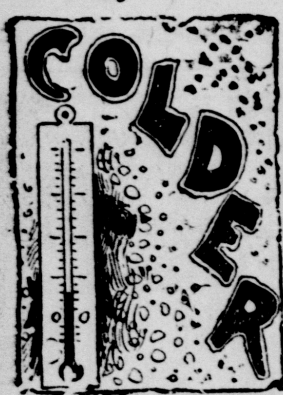

There are a lot of newspaper men in Washington who will require corroboration before making use of any more of Secretary Carlisle's positive statements.

The principal source of trouble in all co-operative scheme is man's inherent disposition to get the big head.

Mr. Cleveland's second administration will be remembered for its bond issues if for nothing else.

Don't Blow Out the Gas.

You can catch more flies with honey than with vinegar. Any person with horse sense knows the above to be true. We conduct our store on this principle, that goods the best and prices right will sweeten you up and make you a permanent customer. Talking a lung out might sell you what you didn't want, and at a greater price than you wanted to pay, but wouldn't it sour you? We work for trade. BROWN BROS. & LINCOLN.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder

World's Fair Highest Medal and Diploma.

The Ladies' Choice.

We have them. They came this morning, and are the handsomest and cheapest ever brought to this market. We have the combination pocket, books and card cases, plain and mounted in silver, all the leading leather, such as snake-skin, alligator skin and real seal skin. They are really exceptionally choice, especially the snake skin books which are all the rage in the large cities.

GOOD MEN FOR EXECUTIVE POSTS

Bross and Coe Needed in the Legislature This Winter.

Strong movements are on foot in behalf of two men well known and highly esteemed in Janesville. The Superior Leader says:

"When entire legislative bodies are largely composed of raw material they can't learn from each other, as is the case when a few new ones are elected to sit with a large number of old experienced members. Therefore, to prevent disasters in management, the greater expense of an unduly long session, unpleasant entanglement and the legislative scandals, its cares, time, both bodies should, regardless of personal ambition and everything else elect the very best men to be had for chief executive officers. These men are Charles E. Bross, for chief clerk of the senate and E. D. Coe, for chief clerk of the assembly. Both have had years of experience; either can run his house alone and keep all branches of business on the hum and both take pride in their work. Not only can either run the multifarious duties of his position with accuracy and dispatch, but he can also keep all the members individually in the right track; expedite their personal matters and prevent errors and faux pas. Elect Bross and Coe and give the people a short, clean, honorable business session. That is what they want. There is not a taxpayer in Wisconsin who will not endorse this view of the matter, and the legislature represents the tax-payers and not the personal ambitions of politicians."

Woman's Face Her Fortune.

Woman's beauty is her fortune. One half of this fortune is centered in a fine set of teeth, and in order to have fine teeth one must take the best care of them. Any dentist will tell you this. The best way to keep your teeth clean and white is to use the best tooth brush and powder. For instance, Prentice & Evenson have just received a very fine line of tooth brushes, their own importation, and the Prentice tooth powder is endorsed by all the leading dentists, and when used with one of those fine imported brushes which Prentice & Evenson just received, the effect is almost instant, works like magic. Try a brush and the Prentice powder and you will use no other.

A New Cafe.

Rush & McCue have opened a cafe at 11 North Main street, upstairs, where they will serve all kinds of meals on short notice. Mr. Rush is one of the best cooks in the city and can "get up" a meal that will make the most fastidious epicure smile all over. They have fitted up the rooms at the above number, over Mr. McCue's sample room, in a very inviting way, and will endeavor to serve all those who patronize them in the most appropriate manner. They will make ball parties and all other social parties a special feature, as Mr. Rush is a superb caterer. Fish, game and all meats in season can be had all the time on short notice.

New Meat Market.

A new meat market, The Metropolitan will be opened at 153 West Milwaukee street next Saturday. While it will be new it will be operated by old tried and true friends, Messrs. Loeb & Gundel. Their new location is just next door to the stand occupied by Joe Loeb at one time. They will endeavor to serve the public in the future as they have in the past, in the most deserving manner. All old customers will please call on them at their new location and new ones will be thrice welcome.

Oh! What Joy.

Never in the history of our business career have we heard such words of praise as were uttered in our cloak room today. We have had lots of praise this fall, but never has it been lavished on us in such a way. The ladies all showed their appreciation of our efforts for all bought cloaks. A thousand dollars does not represent the amount of cloaks we sold today. It was easy for them to see that we were giving manufacturers prices. No jobber was in it. We would like to express our appreciation in some way, but we know not how, unless we keep on cutting prices, which we will do. Today we place our banner as "leaders and promoters of low prices," higher than ever on the ladder of business fame. Come and see us in our new store soon.

of the physical constitution often comes from unnatural, pernicious habits, contracted through ignorance or from excesses. Such habits result in loss of manly power, nervous exhaustion, nervous debility, impaired memory, low spirits, irritable temper, and a thousand and one derangements of mind and body. Epilepsy, paralysis, softening of the brain and even demented insanity sometimes result from such reckless self-abuse.

To reach, reclaim and restore such unfortunate to health and happiness, is the aim of the publishers of a book written in plain but chaste language, on the nature, symptoms and curability, by home treatment, of such diseases. ## MRS. MORSE FREED FROM HER SPOUSE

ALBANY WOMAN GIVEN A DIVORCE TODAY.

Went West From Albany when they Were Wed But Soon Afterward the Husband Tired of His Bride and told Her to Go Home and Live—Gen. City News.

JUDGE BENNETT today granted a judgment of divorce to Addie Morse of Albany, Green county, from her husband, Oliver C. Morse, on the ground of desertion and failure to support. The parties resided in Albany when married, but soon after removed to Iowa, when Oliver told his young wife that she had better return to her Green county home as he would have nothing more to do with her.

BUSINESS is good, but we want still more. Our merchant tailoring is booming. No idle tailors with us. Have just put to work two more coat makers. We are making up the finest, best fitting suits and overcoats in the city at moderate prices. Come boys, leave your measure now as we expect a big rush from now until Christmas. Come and see our new Raglan veters we are making, its a dandy. Weisend, Merchant tailor.

THE word "Dazzler" has been applied to several different institutions, but the real meaning of it has never been shown until Will Evenson arranged a perfume window. It is without a doubt, one of the handsomest and most striking windows ever shown in the city. Under the electric lights it is a "whirlwind" and is attracting lots of attention.

FRANK BAACK'S stock of clothing will probably arrive here tomorrow and will be unpacked, marked and put on sale at once. Lowell will move the remains of the Holloway & Johnson stock to one side and Mr. Baack will open at once, not later than Wednesday morning. Remember 50 cents on the dollar is the word.

MRS. A. L. HATHORN wishes to inform her patrons, that she has quit handling teas, etc., and will devote her time until the holidays canvassing for a fine line of books, self pronouncing, new large burgeois type bibles, etc., which are sold only on subscription. Save your orders for her if you desire the best. She will call.

HOWARD S. HILDENBRAND who was clerk at The Hotel Myers for some time will return to Janesville and take the place behind the counter of Landlord Miller's popular house again. His engagement begins on Sunday morning and many Janesville friends will be glad to see him come back.

THE W. B. C. social dance has not been postponed, but will take place at the close of the Post meeting, on Friday evening, November 23, at G. A. R. hall. Dancing from 9 to 1 o'clock. Tuckwood's orchestra will furnish the music. All friends of the G. A. R. and W. B. C. are cordially invited.

We are selling quite a lot of dinner sets and chamber sets for Christmas presents. They are being selected and part paid for and set aside until wanted. You thus avoid the Christmas rush and have the advantage of the best assortment to select from. The Hub, 103 West Milwaukee.

C. I. MILTMORE, a former well known resident of Janesville, was elected a member of the South Dakota legislature at the recent election, he representing Mitchell county. Mr. Miltmore was elected by the republicans, while everything in that section went with the populists.

THE Beloit Free Press says, "Ex Sheriff George Hanthorn, Street Commissioner of the city of Janesville, was in the city yesterday getting pointers how to bring the streets of Janesville up to the high and admirable condition of the streets of Beloit."

THE Holloway & Johnson stock of hardware is decreasing very fast. Do you know why? Lowell is selling it at 50 cents on the dollar. Some of the best bargains are there yet, but they will not remain long; one week more will finish it. Lowell Hardware Co.

THE Gazette publishes, in this issue a communication from President Maxcy, of the Water Company and the columns of the paper are open to all who wish to discuss the matter, but anonymous communications will not be noticed.

GROWERS WILL NOT LOSE VERY MUCH

WAREHOUSE FIRE WILL NOT RUIN THEM.

Flames Left things in a Chaotic Condition as Many of the Books Were Lost or Burned—Discrepancies Could Be Explained they Say—Reports Were Simple.

The affairs of the Rock County Tobacco Growers' Association are in a chaotic condition, as the result of the fire which destroyed their warehouse Wednesday night. Some of the books containing memoranda of accounts and information regarding the stock, were destroyed or lost at the fire, consequently the reports of the officers were not as complete as expected.

It was nearly 11 o'clock when President Henry Tarrant called for order. Two or three hundred stockholders were present, all of whom appeared very anxious to say something about the association. A feeling prevailed at first that the affairs of the association should be closed up. Many anticipated that startling revelations would be made in the reports, but when noon came, there was disappointment visible on many faces.

Treasurer's Report Was Simple.

Treasurer Wixom's report was simply the announcement of the aggregate receipts and disbursements, and he simply stated that he had received $36,671.44, and had disbursed $35,829.77, leaving cash on hand $166.45. This report was up to date, while the report of the auditing committee was up to the date of the last meeting and showed a small sum more in the treasury than reported. There was a small discrepancy between the auditing committee and the secretary's report but nothing gave the opposition ground to a base suspicion.

An inventory of the stock in the warehouses in Janesville and Orfordville had been made. The Orfordville list was yet in the committees hands, but the Janesville paper was lost in the fire. It was stated by the committee, that the inventory of the Janesville warehouse had been checked after the last meeting, and everything found except the case of tobacco belonging to Joseph Ryan, which had since been accounted for, making the inventory balance but there was a few hundred dollars difference between the reports of the auditing committee and the report of the secretary.

Explanation Was Easy.

All the officers claimed that this discrepancy would be explained by a more careful examination. An attempt was made to adjourn for twenty days, in order that the auditing committee might have time to make the examination and strike correct balances between the several officers. President Tarrant thought this unnecessary, but that the meeting should adjourn until 2 o'clock this afternoon when the committee would be able to report, whereupon the meeting voted to adjourn and a committee consisting of Messrs. Carr, Stockman, Lee, Joiner, and Rice was appointed to report those holding proxies.

All Will Have Something.

The committee reported that the Orfordville warehouse contained 593 cases of all grades, and that the Janesville warehouse, at the time of checking the inventory contained between nine and ten hundred cases.

The members retired at noon more cheerful than when they entered, and the opinion was expressed that, while the stockholders had not made big fortunes, none of them would "go broke" on account of bad management, or the destruction of the warehouse. The insurance on the tobacco was $20,000, but what proportion of the loss it would cover could not be ascertained until a settlement was made with the insurance companies, but it is said all will lose.

The auditing committee reported at 3 o'clock the number of cases of tobacco inventoried as in the warehouse at the time of the fire and at 3:30 no further business had been transacted.

HUNGRY TRAMP GOT GOOD ADVICE

It Was "Come and Get Breakfast and Look Out For Police."

A forlorn appearing tramp meandered down East Milwaukee street at 8 o'clock this morning, walking between the rails of the car track until warned off by the bell of an approaching car. He carried a grip and his appearance indicated that he had not slept in a bed as he was anything but clean. Friends of humanity met him at the post office providing him with breakfast and admonished him to get out of town before the police appeared. He said he came from the north, and had walked here from Lake Koshkonong.

Overcoats! Overcoats! Overcoats!

If the party who stole a cheap overcoat from my store three weeks ago is dissatisfied with the bargain, as it was only a $5 coat, he may return it and I will give him one of those fine ulsters that cost $16 wholesale, instead. I think we will have it colder soon, and an ulster, especially one of those fine Chinchilla or Irish Frieze would be a better and a warmer coat for the rest of the winter. I mean this.

COLOR MAN UNDER ARREST

William York Charged With Non Support of His Children.

William York, a colored man of Milton, is in jail awaiting trial on November 24, in the municipal court on a charge of failure to support his two children. He was arrested this morning by Officer Cochrane.

The case of Ed Brotherton of Johnston, charge of assault and battery, was called in municipal court and continued until November.

Five Years Ago This Month

We began our operations and advertising in this city. It is not too much to say that today there are five good homes here where there was one some homes before. We mean by this five homes with modern improvements, where one with such improvements was before we came. What influence our work for five years has had on this state of things you who read may judge.

We began our business in Riverview park; we gave lot buyers in that addition what they never had gotten anywhere else in Janesville. We gave them the best of streets, a beautiful park, artesian water to every lot, good lights, cheap and reliable transportation, our "Bus," and in short all modern improvements. The homes sprang up in that section as by magic. Old fogies visited us and sympathized with us. Croakers sat around on fences and the railings of the bridges, expectorated tobacco juice and predicted failure and all dire results. Riverview park grew and grew and continued to grow, till lots that we offered at $200 to $300 each have sold the past year, the dullest of dull years, at $1,000 to $1,500 each, and nearly every lot there is sold. Our business grew. "Glen Elta" followed "Riverview." Other additions followed that, till up to date we have platted over five hundred acres of the best lots in Janesville and have marketed a fair proportion of them.

In our Riverview Park deal no sooner had we begun to offer lots, homesites, there than our friend, the enemy, began by saying there is no water there and wells will cost so much to sink to water there that the lots are worthless. It is a fact that one of the daily papers in this city made that statement in print. We put in $9000 worth of private water mains before May 1st the next year 1890. Next the cry was, "dark, oh! horribly dark is Riverview Park" and that became a battle cry of the croakers who didn't dare do any business themselves nor did not want to let any one else do any Electric lights at our expense went in and were burned at our expense for years. Three years of the five we have been in the city we have paid out between $1200 to $1500 per year for street lights. We are not doing much in that line just now but dare do it again. Water and lights were in, what else did the croakers see that Riverview Park lacked? One day one or two of them undertook to walk out there and as the were no saloons on the way in which to rest, one of them died from over fatigue and then the cry went up, it is so far to Riverview Park that you have to start the day before to get home to dinner the following week. Water was good they said in its place, lights were nice in the heart of the city, but way out there they were no good—a man could not get there unless he hired a carriage at an expense of fifty cents and then he would get tired before he reached there. No matter that half the people there in Janesville lived twice as far from the post office as those who lived in Riverview park did; to go up there if you walked would be fatal, for hadn't a dry croaker reported that his friend did die on the road? Water mains had not scared us, lights were within our reach but "no cars" ran to Riverview park and never would run anywhere near there, while to two other sections of the city mule cars did run. This seemed to these people to settle it. One morning we started our "Bus," a better, prompter, cleaner, faster and cheaper conveyance than the city had ever had anywhere. We ran that "Bus" until we had paid the electric road a bonus to go down South Main street and thus brought Riverview park, any part of it within from three to eight minutes of the Myers house corner. Riverview park speaks for itself, we don't need to eulogize. It has today the best class of citizens and the most of them of any equal area in any part of the city that is not over four times as old. It is today the cream of the residence portion of Janesville. Just after the last presidential election we platted East Riverview Park. We put in that winter and the following spring, water mains, over $2000 worth of them. We built streets, beautiful bridges and other improvements and offered lots then at $400 each. There were there and are not now any lots in Janesville at $500, $600 or $700, that are as desirable as these East Riverview Park homesites. Nearly all of them are within a mile of the postoffice, none of them are over a mile and one-eighth. They overlook the city and county, and are every way desirable. The only thing these same old croakers have been able to say, is that they are too far away and have no way to ride down from them. We are five years older, five times better known than we were in 1889, November, when we made our debut here. We have about five times the faith in the future of Janesville that we had in November, 1889. We are going to put East Riverview Park lots within 7 to 10 minutes of the postoffice. Within three and a half cents of the heart of things and we are going to do it quick, but that is another story. We are the same as ever, Yours Very Truly,

W. G. MAXCY, President Janesville Water Co.

MR. MAXCY SCENTS A CAT'S PAW GAME

SAYS LITIGATION IS WANTED BY FEW.

President of the Janesville Water Company Says the Suit Has Been Inspired by Local Capitalists Who Want to Get Possession of the Works.

EDITOR GAZETTE: I desire to state a few facts in regard to the present water works agitation, through the medium of your paper.

In the first place, when the complaints were being made to the Business Men's Association last spring, the Water company decided not to do anything in the matter until the complaints were all filed with the committee appointed by the Business Men's Association. After that committee was appointed, the writer went to the chairman several times and requested an interview with the committee for the purpose of ascertaining what the principal grounds of complaint were and what suggestions the committee had to make in order to satisfy our customers, and I so stated it to the chairman of that committee.

I have never been able to secure an interview with that committee.

In the second place, when the council called for a statement, under the conditions imposed by the franchise. I made a statement to them, taken from the books of the company, just as the books show and I have since offered to show our books to the council to prove to them that my statement was correct, according to the books. Accompanying this statement was a letter, saying, that if the city desired to purchase the works a "much lower price" would be made to them and asking to meet them in regard to it. They paid no attention to this and a resolution, introduced by Mr. Child, to commence suit against the water company was passed. Even after this I insisted upon a meeting with the fire and water committee and after hard work, succeeded in getting the chairman to call the meeting of that committee.

I went before the committee and offered to show our books to any committee of the common council or any expert bookkeeper in their employ and it was agreed at that meeting that the chairman was to stop legal proceedings until I could appear before the council with that proposition. I started for the train the next Monday morning to be present at the council meeting that evening, November 5, when I received word from the chairman, Mr. Child, that the committee had decided not to bring the matter up at that meeting and for me to wait until they met again which would be the 19th inst. Before the council met again, the papers commencing the suit had been served.

I am informed that Mr. Child sent that notice to me without consulting the balance of the committee. I have been at a loss to find a reason for not being able to obtain a conference with the parties appointed to represent the citizens of Janesville, until Mr. Jeffris made the remark, at the meeting in Concordia hall last evening, that a committee had been formed, who were willing to give the city $10,000 if they (the city) could get possession of the works at his figures and turn them over to this committee, presumably Carle, Jeffris & Co. I desire to state these facts to show the citizens of Janesville that we have always been ready to meet their representatives, and are still willing to do so.

We have no desire for a law suit, and will meet the city more than half way to avoid one, but if the citizens insist on being drawn into a long, expensive law suit, there is nothing left for us but to fight. We sincerely hope and believe that reason and good judgment will yet triumph over prejudice and self interest. Yours truly,

W. G. MAXCY,

Pres. Janesville Water Co.

MAN AND NATURE.

The mountains, and the forests, and the seas,
Olfest of mourners with pathetic tone,
Have each a natural music, all their own,
Set in accord with human destinies,
Sad, tender, manifold. What is more sweet
Than woodland melodies at noon? More mild
Than dimpled ocean, like a laughing child,
That lisp and rolls a jewel to our feet,
Breathlessly calm? And then, within an hour,
Behold that selfsame ocean on the shore
Lashes. The forest quakes with deafening power.

The rocks are rent. Then, oh! amid that roar,
Awestruck we sink, we fall upon our knees,
Ye mountains, and ye forests, and ye seas!

The mountains, and the forests, and the seas,
Have each their music, with our mortal lot
In sympathy, to soothe, exalt, appose,
And man, too, has his music; has a note
Of worldwide sweetness, tender reveries,
Dirges of buried blisses unforget,
Rejoicing psalms, glorious symphonies,
But all of them lack something. They have not.

The voice once heard in Eden, and the ear,
Pleased with rich sound, is as when some one sings.

In a great court before a king of kings.
He closes, and of rapture born a cheer
Shakes the high roof, but when the lord of all Speaks there is awe and silence in the hall.

FABIO'S NOTE.

Of all the merchants in Venice, Fabio Mutinelli was the most exact in keeping his engagements. He was liberal and magnificent on every occasion, and especially with ladies and people of the church. The elegant polity of his manners was celebrated throughout the republic, and people admired at San Zanipolo an altar of gold which he had offered to St. Catherine for love of the beautiful Catherine Manini, wife of the senator, Alessio Conaro. As he was very wealthy, he had many friends, to whom he gave festivals and his purse. But he suffered severe losses in the war against the Genoese and in the troubles of Naples. It happened that 30 of his vessels were captured. So the magnificent Fabio was despoiled in a short time of all his riches. Having sold his palace and his plate to pay his debts, he found himself destitute of everything. But as he was skillful, courageous, well learned in commerce and in the vigor of age, he thought only of restoring his business. He made many calculations and figured that 500 ducats were necessary for him to attempt new enterprises, from which he expected happy, prompt and certain successes. He asked of Alessio Bontura, who was the richest citizen of the republic, to lend to him these 500 ducats. But the good signor esteemed that if audacity procures great goods prudence alone preserves them, and he refused to expose so large a sum to the peril of sea and fortune. Fabio addressed himself to Andrea Morosini, whom he had formerly favored in different ways.

"Beloved Fabio," replied Andrea, "to others than you I would willingly lend this sum. I have no attachment for gold pieces, and I conform, on this point, to the maxims of Horace, the satirist. But your friendship is dear to me, Fabio Mutinelli, and I would risk its loss if I loaned you money. Most often commerce of the heart goes ill between debtor and creditor. I have seen too many examples of this."

With these words Signor Andrea pretended to embrace the merchant tenderly and shut the door in his face.

At night, as she was returning sadly to his house, the courtesan Zanetta, who was taking a bath in the canal, grasped his gondola and said to Fabio:

"I know your misfortunes. They are the talk of the town. Now listen. I am not rich, but I have some jewels in a small casket. If you accept them, gentle Fabio, I will believe that God and the Virgin love me."

And it was true that, in the newness of her age and in the fine flower of her beauty, Zanetta was poor. Fabio replied:

"Graceful Zanetta, there is more nobility in the house where you live than in all the palaces of Venice."

For three days more Fabio visited the banks and the shops without finding anybody who would lend money to him. Everywhere he received a wicked answer and heard speeches the tone of which was as follows: "You were wrong to sell your plate to pay your debts. One may loan money to a man in debt; one never loans to a man who has neither furniture nor plate."

The fifth day he went in his despair to the Corte Delle Galli, which is also called the Ghetto, and which is the Jewish quarter. "Who knows," he said to himself, "if I may not obtain from a Jew the favor that Christians have refused?" He went through streets the entrance of which, by order of the senate, was barred every night with chains. He remembered having heard of an Israelite named Eleazer, son of Eleazer Maimonides, who was said to be grandly rich and of a mind marvelously subtle. The door of his house was decorated with an image of the seven branched golden candlestick, which the Jew had caused to be made as a sign of hope, in view of the promised day when the temple would rise from its ashes.

The merchant entered a hall lighted by a lamp of brass, the 12 wicks of which were ablaze. The Jew Eleazer was seated before his scales. The windows of his house were walled, because he was an infidel. Fabio Mutinelli talked to him in the following manner:

"Eleazer, I have often called you a dog and a pagan. It happened, when I was younger, that I threw stones and mud at people who passed near the canal wearing a yellow wheel on their shoulders. I tell you this not to insult you, but to be loyal at a time when I come to ask you to do me a great service."

The Jew lifted his arm, which was dry and knotty like a vine.

"Fabio Mutinelli," he said, "the Father who is in heaven will judge you and me. What service do you ask?"

"Lend me 500 ducats for a year."

"One does not lend without security. What is your security?"

"You must know, Eleazer, that I have not even a golden cup, not even a silver goblet. I have nothing. Everybody has refused to do me the service that I ask of you. I have nothing in the world, except my honor as a merchant and my faith as a Christian. I offer to you as security the Holy Virgin Mary and her Divine Son."

At this reply the Jew inclined his head like one meditating and thinking, caressed for an instant his long white beard and said:

"Fabio Mutinelli, lead me to your security, for it is necessary that the lender should be placed in presence of the security that is offered to him."

"It is your right," answered the merchant. "Come!"

He led Eleazer to the Church of l'Orto, near the field which is named after the Moors. There, showing the Madonna, who, standing on the altar, her forehead ornamented with a crown of precious stones, her shoulders covered with a gold embroidered cloak, held in her arms the infant Jesus, decked like his mother, the merchant said to the Jew, "This is my security."

Eleazer looked with a subtle eye at the Christian merchant, the Madonna and the child, bent his head and said that he accepted the security. He brought Fabio back to his house and gave to him 500 ducats, saying:

"This is yours for a year. If in a year from now, day for day, you have not returned to me this sum, with the interest fixed by the law of Venice and the custom of the Lombards, imagine, Fabio Mutinelli, what I will think of the Christian merchant and of his security!"

Fabio, without loss of time, bought vessels and loaded them with salt and various other merchandise, which he disposed of in the cities of the Adriatic at a great profit. Then, with a few cargo, he sailed for Constantinople, where he bought carpets, perfumes, peacock feathers, ivory and ebony, which his clerks exchanged on the coast of Dalmatia for lumber, which was bought from him in advance by the Venetians. By this means he multiplied ten times in six months the sum which he had received.

But one day that he was in a bark on the Bosphorus with Greek women he was taken by pirates and brought captive into Egypt. Happily his gold and his merchandise were safe. The pirates sold him to a Saracen lord, who, having put his feet in irons, commanded him to cultivate the wheat, which is beautiful in that country. He offered ransom, but the daughter of the Saracen lord, who loved him, dissuaded her father from surrendering him at any price. He fled his irons with the instruments that he used to cultivate the fields, fled, reached the Nile and went out to sea.

After eight days of travel in a Spanish ship, which had picked him up, a tempest threw him on the coast of Dalmatia. The entire crew was drowned, and Fabio, supported by a chicken coop, reached the coast with great difficulty. He fell insensible and was brought to the house of a widow, who was quite beautiful and whose name was Loreta. When he regained consciousness, he was surrounded by perfume of myrtles and roses, and he saw from his window a garden which descended gradually to the sea. Mme. Loreta took her violin and played tenderly. Fabio, in his gratitude, kissed her hands a thousand times. Then he asked what was the day of the month. When she told him, he began to groan and to lament at the thought that in 24 hours the year would be ended, and the date would come when he would fail to return the 500 ducats which he had borrowed from the Jew Eleazer. Mme. Loreta having asked the cause of his despair, he made it known to her. As she was a woman of great piety and very faithful to the Holy Mother of God, she sympathized with him. There was no difficulty in obtaining the 500 ducats, but none could think of going from the coast of Dalmatia to Venice in 24 hours in a bad sea and with contrary winds. "Let us have the money in the first place," said Fabio.

When a servant of his hostess had brought the money to him, the noble merchant asked for a bark, which he filled with bags containing the ducats. Then he took from Mme. Loreta's oratory an image of the Virgin with the infant Jesus, which was made of cedar wood and was very venerable. He placed it in the bark near the rudder, and he said to the image:

"Madam, you are my security. The Jew Eleazer must be paid tomorrow. My honor and yours are at stake, madam, and also the renown of your Son. What a mortal sinner like me may not do you shall surely accomplish, pure star of the sea, you whose breast nourishes the one who walked on waves. Take this money to the Jew Eleazer, in the Ghetto of Venice, so that the Jews will not say that you are bad security." Having pushed the bark in the wave, he took off his hat and said softly: "Adieu, madam." For a long time the merchant and the widow followed the bark with their eyes. The night fell. A furrow of light was traced in the peaceful sea.

The next morning Eleazer, having opened his door, saw in the narrow canal of the Ghetto a bark loaded with bags and guided by a little figure of black wood, resplendent with the clearness of dawn. The bark stopped before the house where was carved the seven branched golden candlestick. The Jew recognized the Virgin Mary and the infant Jesus, security of the Christian merchant.—Echo.

MAY BE A MOB.

The Following Letter Speaks For Itself.
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 20, 1894.
MR. ED. J. SMITH, JANESVILLE, Wis., DEAR ED:—We have just lately purchased the entire production of a well-known fine clothing manufacturer in New York. The total purchase amounts to about $100,000. I have selected from the lot about $10,000 worth of men's, boys' and children's suits and overcoats for the Janesville store. Now, Ed., this is not a bankrupt stock of old, refused clothing, but they are all fine, new, fresh goods, made within the past 35 days, but owing to the late tailors' strike in New York city, these goods were delayed in the making until too late to be put on the wholesale market for the season. In consideration of this fact we purchased the entire production for 48 cents on the dollar and if you want this lot of clothing sent to you, you will be enabled to give the people of Janesville and Rock county a benefit in the way of fine, reliable clothing at prices never before heard of in the history of the state. I wish you to place them on sale at once and close the entire lot during the next thirty days. Would advertise them thoroughly, and at the prices you can name on these goods, you will come near selling all the clothing sold in town during the sale. Have sent you the twenty-five black freize ulsters. Also the thirty-five men's black and blue chevots to sell at $10. Weather here cold; five below zero yesterday morning. Business very good. With kind regards.
Yours very truly, T. J. ZIEGLER.
